

Programs for School of Education (SOE), PMMMNMTT scheme under MHRD at Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar-

About SoE SCHEME

Ministry of Human Resource Development under the leadership of honourable Minister Shri Prakash Javedkar Ji, took a leap forward in transforming education sector by announcing the introduction of four year B.Ed. integrated programme with multiple pathways- with specialization for pre-primary, elementary, secondary and senior secondary teachers for improving the quality of education. Integrated courses are fundamental for bringing effectiveness in teacher education. The objective of these courses is to produce teachers who can transform education and help to build sustainable societies.

The graduates coming out of the existing teacher preparation programmes are non-employable, thus the integrated programme is an answer as it is designed to prepare teachers who are groomed to nurture best practices with sound footing in content as well as methodology.

The School of Education (SOE) will form the main backbone of integrated development of teachers. It is proposed that school of education will have collaboration with international partners. SOE will offer academic programmes in education as an area of knowledge and field of professional practice. The SOE will prepare teachers/scholars to be engaged in educational discourses and knowledge generation. It will also provide avenues for professional development of teachers, teacher educators and other educational functionaries. The SOE will provide programmes of excellence in the pre-service and in-service education of prospective and practising teachers through teaching and learning, research, consultancy, publication and community services.

The University by setting up a School of Education proposes to strengthen the holistic vision for teacher education in the state, keeping it intimately connected with school education. This would in turn support and enable professional development, research collaboration, School interventions, curricular resource development and state academic planning. The SOE by starting an integrated programme would act as a regional centre and at the same time take a leading role in professional development of teachers and teacher educators of this region

The university has taken three centres approved under School of:

- a. Centre for pre-service teacher education.
- b. Centre for learning and pedagogic studies.
- c. Centre for professional development for teacher educator

About SoE:

The School of Education (SOE) forms the main backbone of integrated development of teachers. By setting up a School of Education, the university intends to strengthen the holistic vision for teacher education in the state, keeping it intimately connected with school education. This would in turn support and enable professional development, research collaboration, School interventions, curricular resource development and state academic planning. Keeping in view the present context of educational settings, the SOE offers academic programmes in education as an area of knowledge and field of professional practice. The SOE will focus on engaging teachers/scholars in educational discourses and knowledge generation. It will also provide avenues for professional development of teachers, teacher educators and other educational functionaries. The SOE endeavours to provide programmes of excellence in the pre-service and in-service education of prospective and practising teachers through teaching and learning, research, consultancy, publication and community services
